THE BOARDING HOUSE.

The Boston Gazette's "Old Apple Man" gives the following in his last issue. I thought it would be interesting to our readers.

This is a boarding house; from floor to ceiling, it is a boarding house. It is a boarding house, and it is a boarding house.

And there is a boarding house, and it is a boarding house. It is a boarding house, and it is a boarding house.

I see the landlord looking on the boarders, and there is a boarding house, and it is a boarding house.

And there is a boarding house, and it is a boarding house. It is a boarding house, and it is a boarding house.

THE PRUSSIAN EXPENDITURE OF CARTRIDGES.

There is no modern warfare that can show so economical a use of cartridges as is shown in the following statement:

"The Prussian War Office has issued a return of the number of cartridges expended in the late war, with the view of showing that it was the Prussian army that was the victor."

The number of cartridges expended during the war was 1,000,000,000, and the Prussian army was the victor.

TERRITORIALIZATION OF THE SOUTH.

The Pioneer is dreadfully shocked at the want of reverence exhibited by the Radical Congress for the "rights" of the rebel states in the proposition now before that body to place those states under Territorial governments. Will the Pioneer do us the favor, once for all, to tell us what are the rights of rebel states, and where they got them. What at Vicksburg or Atlanta or Appomattox Court House? The Radical Congress is plainly of the opinion, and it is abundantly clear, that the enslaved rebel states have a right to speak of—have such as the majority of their conquerors may choose to grant them; and as for reducing them to a Territorial condition—that is plainly their condition now; though they are as yet without governments organized by proper authority to entitle them to a place in Congress. They are conquered provinces awaiting the sentence of the conqueror. The local governments now formed there are purely provisional in their character, arbitrarily set up by military power, without the authority or sanction of Congress, and with no foundation in law or precedent, and no recognition by the people upon whom they are imposed—though, as they have forfeited all rights by rebellion, they have not, in the nature of things, the right to form a government of themselves—unless by the assent of Congress. To give these people Territorial governments, is simply to place them under regular and lawful governments, instead of the irregular and unlawful organizations which Andrew Johnson imposed upon them; and finally by divesting them of the fictitious character of States which leads them to pose as arrogant a part, and to prefer such preposterous claims, they will be reduced to the position of the regular States, and by the regular steps. These steps are as follows: First, a period of territorial tutelage under an organic act of Congress; second, an enabling act prescribing the conditions on which a State government may be formed; third, the calling of a constitutional convention, and the formation of a State constitution acceptable to Congress; fourth, an act of admission entitling the new State to send representatives and Senators to Congress. We don't see any way in which the rebel States can get into Congress except by climbing that pile of stairs; unless, indeed, they hurry up their claims and come in on the Constitutional Amendment before the draw is up.

Born the Senate and House postoffice committees have been instructed to inquire into the expediency of authorizing the Postoffice Department to construct and operate telegraph lines under the principal mail routes. Our New York special brings rumors of the establishment of another telegraph company by the newspaper establishments of New York, in which business the New York press is now engaged. We presume it could be shown that the newspaper establishments of the East and West spend money enough every year for telegraphic dispatches to build, stock, and operate all the lines over which they receive dispatches.

This House of Representatives on the 6th instant, carried out the decision of the Republican caucus by ordering the appointment of a special investigating committee of three to enquire into the New Orleans massacre, and another committee of three to investigate the circumstances of the murder of three Union soldiers in South Carolina in October 1865, and the pardon by the President of the parties convicted of the murder.

It turns out, according to our special, that the constitutionality of the test oath was not involved in the recent decision of the Supreme Court. The case arose apparently on the question of its applicability to lawyers.

The House of Representatives has passed the bill to repeal the amnesty act of the President, by a vote of 111 to 20. The Senate committee has reported favorably upon it.

The Senate Committee in the District of Columbia favors a kind of Territorial Government for that District, with a delegate in Congress.

The United States District Court in session in Corinth, Kentucky, has decided that railroads cannot be held responsible for the killing of stock which may break out of the pasture or lot, and stray on the track, or even if the fence is surrounded by numerous persons. The suit was brought by Joseph Howard against the Kentucky Central Railroad, for the recovery of the value of thirteen mules killed by the cars in 1865, losing damages of $1,500, and the jury were instructed to find for the defendant, the late R. B. Bowles of Cincinnati, owner of the road.

A combination has been formed by exporters and money brokers in New York, to break down the cotton market; so that they may say, and it is demonstrated that the interests of Western holders are to be sacrificed at all hazards. The United States to aid every honest money Western holder and funds to carry. The breakdown in prices during the past two or three days is the result of a combination, and although there is a margin of 25 cents between New York and Liverpool, this exporters have bought lightly.

A very general conversation with the members of Congress develops the fact that it is very doubtful whether Mr. McClure will be able to rally any considerable minority to his support in measures looking to a marked continuation of the currency. His stepping out of the new in reports to recommend the abolition of the rebel States is receiving considerable disfavor.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Special Dispatch to the St. Paul Press. WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. A REHEARSAL OF "JUSTICE." The prime object of the vagrant act in the Southern States, is illustrated by the following: Rev. Wm. Fincher, a colored minister, who was preaching to and teaching people of his own race in Georgia, and who has been expelled from the Georgia Baptist Association, which receives its funds from Northern benevolent societies, was arrested as a vagrant, and sentenced to the chain gang for twelve months. He has now been in the chain gang six months. When arrested and convicted he was in receipt of his salary, was independent in his circumstances, and was doing much good as a preacher and teacher. The case was carried from one court to another, and the conviction affirmed by the highest courts; the courts holding that the North had no right to count money South to pay for such services, and that the case was dependent upon a vagrant, and these facts are matters of official record, and will be brought to the attention of Congress in a few days.

THE PRESIDENT'S ORDERS. Intimate friends of the President ascertained that he will send the names of his appointees before the Senate for confirmation at an early hour, and will continue to remove office holders as though Congress was not in session.

THE BILL AUTHORIZING THE PUBLIC SALE OF THE TREASURY OF $20,000,000 OF GOLD. Monday morning in New York will be adopted by the Commissioners to which it was referred at an early day. The bill is considered by the Senate, and the passage. Sales are to be made in ten principal cities, and the proceeds are to be invested in interest-bearing bonds of the United States.

THE PRESIDENT'S TELEGRAPH. There are still further reports here of the establishment of another telegraph company. It is said that the President, in charge of preparing a bill for changing the time of the assembling of Congress, have agreed upon a bill that will be reported and passed by the House to-day. It provides for a meeting of the Fortieth Congress on March 4th next.

SOUTHERN UNION MEN. A delegation from the South Carolina Union men called upon Stand. Stevens yesterday and urged him to stand firm and prevent them from being turned over to the tender mercies of rebel leaders.

THE TEST OATH DECISION. The decision of the United States Supreme Court in regard to the test oath does not involve the constitutionality of the law, which required of United States officers the case before the court was simply that of an attorney claiming to practice in the courts.

SENATOR YORKE. The friends of Senator Yorke allege that the President has intended him for an important foreign mission, which he has accepted and will enter upon his duties the 15th of March.

SECOND DISPATCH. WASHINGTON, Dec. 10—Evening. CAPITALISTS TO THE RESCUE. A number of leading capitalists from New York, including the Astors, arrived to-day. The objects of the visit are understood to be the probabilities of an impeachment.

SECRETARY McCULLOUGH is preparing a new financial scheme to be submitted to Congress in a few days.

THE VOTE IN THE SENATE on universal suffrage in this District will be very close, the NATIONAL BANKS.

IN THE HOUSE TO-DAY a resolution declaring that the National Banks ought to be wound up and treasury notes used only for paper circulation, was laid on the table—87 to 38—Illinois voting nay, except Mr. Washburne. The Western States voted generally against tabling. The vote develops unexpected hostility to National Bank circulation.

MEETING OF CONGRESS. The bill to change the time of meeting of Congress to the 4th of March has passed—150 to 29.

The bill to restrict the appointing power of the President was taken up. The Congressional bill as passed provides that the first meeting of Congress shall be on the 4th of March; the second session the same at present. Congressional mileage is abolished. The number of pension agents in each State and Territory is limited to three, and a provision inserted requiring the assent of the Senate to all appointments, and vacating all appointments by the President of such agents made during the present year.

POST OFFICE AND TELEGRAPH. In the Senate to-day, the Committee on Postoffice was instructed to enquire into the expediency of authorizing the Postoffice Department to construct and operate the lines of telegraph along the principal mail routes.

The President sent a message concerning the correspondence in the case of J. A. Surratt, which is very long, and embraces the period from September, 1865, to the present time. The first information of the whereabouts of Surratt came from the American Consul in Liverpool. He escaped to England by way of Canada. For reasons not given the government did not deem it expedient to arrest him while in Liverpool, but did not lose track of his movements. The details covered by the correspondence throw much additional light on the assassination conspiracy.

FROM LOUISVILLE. Coal Range Bank—Garrigue Co. Bank. Special Dispatch to the St. Paul Press. Louisville, Ky., Dec. 10.

The steamer Dart yesterday sunk a coal barge containing 12,000 bushels of coal on the Falls of the Ohio, by running the barge on the rocks.

The amount of coal received here during the present week is 1,200,000 bushels. The amount forwarded to New Orleans is 2,800,000 bushels.

Much complaint is made of the manner in which the officers of the 10th and 12th regiments, last week mustered out here, swindled the people who had placed their pay with the white officers for safe keeping. Some of the poor parties lost in this manner over two years pay.

All the packing houses in the city were fully engaged in hog-killing, Saturday and Sunday, the weather being quite favorable. Up to last night 38,000 had been killed, and some 9,000 will be killed to-day. Pigs are estimated, and sales are at $3.75 to $4.00 per 100 pounds gross.

An order was received here yesterday for the purchase of 10,000 for parties in Virginia, to be taken from the books and packed here by the purchase agent. Forty thousand dollar mass pork transaction took place on Saturday at prices not noted. The money market here has not been so stringent for many years as at present. Since Nov. 15th the sales of tobacco at the 4th auction market have footed up 2,148 hogs.

The amount of coal received here during the present week is 1,200,000 bushels. The amount forwarded to New Orleans is 2,800,000 bushels.

Much complaint is made of the manner in which the officers of the 10th and 12th regiments, last week mustered out here, swindled the people who had placed their pay with the white officers for safe keeping. Some of the poor parties lost in this manner over two years pay.

All the packing houses in the city were fully engaged in hog-killing, Saturday and Sunday, the weather being quite favorable. Up to last night 38,000 had been killed, and some 9,000 will be killed to-day. Pigs are estimated, and sales are at $3.75 to $4.00 per 100 pounds gross.

An order was received here yesterday for the purchase of 10,000 for parties in Virginia, to be taken from the books and packed here by the purchase agent. Forty thousand dollar mass pork transaction took place on Saturday at prices not noted. The money market here has not been so stringent for many years as at present. Since Nov. 15th the sales of tobacco at the 4th auction market have footed up 2,148 hogs.

FROM EUROPE. News by Atlantic Cable. Special Dispatch to the St. Paul Press.

A REHEARSAL OF "JUSTICE." The prime object of the vagrant act in the Southern States, is illustrated by the following: Rev. Wm. Fincher, a colored minister, who was preaching to and teaching people of his own race in Georgia, and who has been expelled from the Georgia Baptist Association, which receives its funds from Northern benevolent societies, was arrested as a vagrant, and sentenced to the chain gang for twelve months. He has now been in the chain gang six months. When arrested and convicted he was in receipt of his salary, was independent in his circumstances, and was doing much good as a preacher and teacher. The case was carried from one court to another, and the conviction affirmed by the highest courts; the courts holding that the North had no right to count money South to pay for such services, and that the case was dependent upon a vagrant, and these facts are matters of official record, and will be brought to the attention of Congress in a few days.

THE PRESIDENT'S ORDERS. Intimate friends of the President ascertained that he will send the names of his appointees before the Senate for confirmation at an early hour, and will continue to remove office holders as though Congress was not in session.

THE BILL AUTHORIZING THE PUBLIC SALE OF THE TREASURY OF $20,000,000 OF GOLD. Monday morning in New York will be adopted by the Commissioners to which it was referred at an early day. The bill is considered by the Senate, and the passage. Sales are to be made in ten principal cities, and the proceeds are to be invested in interest-bearing bonds of the United States.

THE PRESIDENT'S TELEGRAPH. There are still further reports here of the establishment of another telegraph company. It is said that the President, in charge of preparing a bill for changing the time of the assembling of Congress, have agreed upon a bill that will be reported and passed by the House to-day. It provides for a meeting of the Fortieth Congress on March 4th next.

SOUTHERN UNION MEN. A delegation from the South Carolina Union men called upon Stand. Stevens yesterday and urged him to stand firm and prevent them from being turned over to the tender mercies of rebel leaders.

THE TEST OATH DECISION. The decision of the United States Supreme Court in regard to the test oath does not involve the constitutionality of the law, which required of United States officers the case before the court was simply that of an attorney claiming to practice in the courts.

SENATOR YORKE. The friends of Senator Yorke allege that the President has intended him for an important foreign mission, which he has accepted and will enter upon his duties the 15th of March.

SECOND DISPATCH. WASHINGTON, Dec. 10—Evening. CAPITALISTS TO THE RESCUE. A number of leading capitalists from New York, including the Astors, arrived to-day. The objects of the visit are understood to be the probabilities of an impeachment.

SECRETARY McCULLOUGH is preparing a new financial scheme to be submitted to Congress in a few days.

THE VOTE IN THE SENATE on universal suffrage in this District will be very close, the NATIONAL BANKS.

IN THE HOUSE TO-DAY a resolution declaring that the National Banks ought to be wound up and treasury notes used only for paper circulation, was laid on the table—87 to 38—Illinois voting nay, except Mr. Washburne. The Western States voted generally against tabling. The vote develops unexpected hostility to National Bank circulation.

MEETING OF CONGRESS. The bill to change the time of meeting of Congress to the 4th of March has passed—150 to 29.

The bill to restrict the appointing power of the President was taken up. The Congressional bill as passed provides that the first meeting of Congress shall be on the 4th of March; the second session the same at present. Congressional mileage is abolished. The number of pension agents in each State and Territory is limited to three, and a provision inserted requiring the assent of the Senate to all appointments, and vacating all appointments by the President of such agents made during the present year.

POST OFFICE AND TELEGRAPH. In the Senate to-day, the Committee on Postoffice was instructed to enquire into the expediency of authorizing the Postoffice Department to construct and operate the lines of telegraph along the principal mail routes.

The President sent a message concerning the correspondence in the case of J. A. Surratt, which is very long, and embraces the period from September, 1865, to the present time. The first information of the whereabouts of Surratt came from the American Consul in Liverpool. He escaped to England by way of Canada. For reasons not given the government did not deem it expedient to arrest him while in Liverpool, but did not lose track of his movements. The details covered by the correspondence throw much additional light on the assassination conspiracy.

The steamer Dart yesterday sunk a coal barge containing 12,000 bushels of coal on the Falls of the Ohio, by running the barge on the rocks.

The amount of coal received here during the present week is 1,200,000 bushels. The amount forwarded to New Orleans is 2,800,000 bushels.

The Saint Paul Press

THE EMIGRANT QUESTION.

Practical hints from our intelligent correspondents.

CHAS. C. DEE, Dec. 10, 1866.

Editors of the Press:—

It is, indeed, of great importance and consequent interest, as it has already been agitated by several parties, that the subject should be taken by the State to its consideration.

Generally such measures, as have been observed, it is in different States these measures, failed by their partiality or by predominant private interests, so that the money granted for the purpose by the States appeared as if it were lavished, or it was of very small avail.

Nothing else but the interests of the whole State, combined with the interest and welfare of the immigrants, should be taken into consideration. Firstly, to attract emigration to the State, and secondly, to protect the immigrants from fraudulent agents, an appropriate advertisement should be published in the papers of these States and countries from where the most numerous emigration is to be expected, and in several other papers, in order to give additional information to the public, and in some cases of less circulation from three weeks to three months, in which advertisement must also be remarked, where they can get gratis the "Price List," published by the State, or a compilation thereof.

Secondly, an agency should be established in New York city for the protection of emigrants against swindling, although they, gradually, to buy railroads tickets and to prevent checks for their baggage.

Thirdly, there should be an office in St. Paul, in which the immigrants could get information where public lands are to be had.

To put this concern into operation in Germany, it would be the quickest, the most effective and the cheapest way, by the medium of the Association of Book

Dealers and Publishers in Germany, which is organized like our postal institution, and whose activity extends over the whole of Germany and all European countries, and can be managed and controlled just as well at St. Paul as at any other place.

It cannot be doubted that it will pay a thousand fold when the attention of the emigrants will be turned upon Minnesota. The requisite expenditure might appear to be very high, yet, under good management, it will prove to be trifling in comparison with the benefits derived from it.

At its next session the legislature should take the matter seriously into consideration without delay, and confer

the accomplishment of the same upon a Board of Immigration.

CURIOUS WILLS.

Oddities of Human Nature.

Some, who would not have given a cup of water to a beggar, by their will leave enormous sums to charity, to secure for themselves a kind of posthumous admission into the ranks of the good.

Others allow not their reputation to be sullied by the thought of leaving behind them a fortune, but they bequeath it to the poor, and in doing so, they give a lesson to the world.

One man provides for his wife and children, and leaves the remainder to the poor, and in doing so, he gives a lesson to the world.

Another man, who has been a miser, and who has hoarded up a fortune, leaves it to the poor, and in doing so, he gives a lesson to the world.

John Hodge has kept his name out of the papers by giving twenty shillings a year to a poor man, and in doing so, he gives a lesson to the world.

Another man, who has been a miser, and who has hoarded up a fortune, leaves it to the poor, and in doing so, he gives a lesson to the world.

John Hodge has kept his name out of the papers by giving twenty shillings a year to a poor man, and in doing so, he gives a lesson to the world.

SAINT PAUL, DECEMBER 12, 1886.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING.

—John Conner of Cincinnati, fell dead last Sunday in the act of drinking a glass of whiskey. Dead shot.

—A Napa (Cal.) farmer publishes that he found in the crop of a chicken, six bits' worth of scale gold.

—A Mr. Bates of Kentucky, twenty years of age, is seven feet eleven inches high and still growing. He is the "big boy" of eleven children.

—The head porter of Trinity College, Cambridge, who died recently, had amassed between £15,000 and £20,000 during the period in which he had held office.

—Gen. Grant has accepted an invitation to be present at Concord, New Hampshire, on the 1st of January, and attend the annual meeting of the Veterans Association.

—The pirate Semmes lectured at Galveston, Texas, last Tuesday night, on the "Equipment and Capture of the Alabama, viewed in the light of American Precedent and the Law of Nations."

—Major General J. W. Sprague, of Erie, Ohio, has been mustered out of service, and has declined a Lieutenant Colonelcy in the regular army, tendered him by the government.

—A writer, dwelling upon the importance of small things, says "that he always takes notice even of a straw, especially if that happens to be a cherry comb at one end of it."

—The mother of the United States Mint has made a discovery which will save the government $2,000 out of every million converted from gold dust into coin. The new process will not be made public.

—Mrs. David Kitchen, of Morgan county, Indiana, gave birth to three children—a boy and two girls—a short time since. The husband was a member of the Thirty-third Indiana, and was discharged for "unsuitability."

—A number of the "Wine Growers' State Convention, held in San Francisco last month, and Shonora county would have 300,000 gallons this season, and the State some 1,500,000 gallons, all of which would be offered for export.

—A fashionable lady wore her new bonnet to church last Sunday morning before, from the fact to the amusement of the few who knew the difference. None of those religiously inclined noticed the error.

—Washington Allston's famous painting, "Jeremiah," is about to be placed on exhibition at the Yale College School of Fine Arts, and will become the property of the institution when $7,000 is raised for its purchase.

—A French capitalist offered to pay $1,000,000 for the admission fees to the Exhibition in Paris next year; one-half at once, the other half on the eve of the opening. The exhibition was somewhat indignant at the offer, but the offer was declined.

—Harvard and Edson, the runaway Boston merchants, whose creditors bleed to the tune of $775,000, are living comparatively at St. Lawrence Hall, at Montreal, and have been joined by their respective families, and under existing treaties defrayed or protection for their wives.

—Governor Sharkey of Mississippi, came down on the 28th inst. by a railroad bridge near Holly Springs, which had been damaged by high waters that passengers were obliged to cross on foot. The Governor was somewhat indignant and was fished out by a Cincinnati, somewhat the worse for his plunge.

—A man hauling from Vermont recently sold to some citizens of Franklin county, Ohio, what purported to be a number of splendid black Spanish hares. The citizens were proud of their prize until the first rain that came washed off their hair, and they proved to be ordinary white "scrubs." The enterprising Vermonters are at present in an Ohio jail.

—The Rochester Advertiser gives what purports to be a letter from O. H. Rock, West Virginia, describing the search of a subterranean lake of oil to discover the body of Temple, said to have been drowned while attempting to explore the oleaginous cavern. Though unsuccessful, the search resulted in the discovery of another body yet not identified.

—A rumor is current in the hills of Harrison and Crawford counties, Indiana, is that a man has been seen several times recently. Doubtless he has escaped from some lunatic asylum, as he is described as a somewhat feeble-minded fellow, and it is reported this wild beast has been seen.

—George Gordon de Luna Byron, claiming to be an illegitimate son of the poet and a noble Spanish lady, is one of the characters of New York. He is about forty or forty-five years of age, has a prominent nose, dark eyes and curly hair, and really looks like a good deal like the genuine portraits of the illustrious ally.

—A novel law case has just been decided at Chicago. A British subject dying there late last year, the British Consul claimed the right to administer the estate of the deceased. The court which tried the case decided that a Consul has authority in the matter, and dismissed the suit at his costs. The property, by this decision, goes into the hands of the public administrator.

—Miss Lida Jordan, of Maine town, Maine county, Iowa, has just died of trichinosis, having eaten diseased pork last spring. She never entirely recovered from the first attack, which was a very peculiar set of abnormal manifestations, and has, at the length of time from the eating of the trichinosis meat, succumbed to the presence of the parasite in her system.

—Charles Gallagher, of Spencer, Mass., was recently fined $2 for defrauding Conductor Parker of his fare from Spencer to Worcester on the day before. He paid but forty cents of the seventy-five cents due the company, and declared to the conductor that he had no more money, but after leaving the car he showed a large roll of greenbacks and boasted that he was sharp enough to ride for what he pleased.

—At a literary dinner in London, where Thackeray and Angus B. Beach were vis-a-vis at the table, Thackeray—who had never before met Mr. Beach—addressed him as Mr. Beach, pronounced the name as his orthography would naturally indicate. "Be-ack, sir—Be-ack, if you please," said Mr. Beach, who is punctilious upon having his name pronounced in two syllables, as if it spelled Be-ack. Thackeray, of course, apologized, and corrected his pronunciation; but in the course of the dinner he took occasion to hand a plate of fine peaches across the table, saying, in a tone which only he possessed, "Mr. Be-ack, will you have a peach?" Whether Mr. Beach took a peach or pique, is not recorded.

—The Ledger reminds me that some people are kicking up a "hobby" because Mr. Beecher of Plymouth church is writing a story for it which is to have a moral, and will be continued until Mr. Cobb has his ready to publish. Now, if Mr. H. W. H., can find time to write a story for the Ledger, besides writing his sermons, and attending to the political duties of the President, and looking after the key to the big organ, and seeing that his church members are all spiritually well, then what's the word to say. The question is—can Mr. Beecher do all this?

—Arrangements are in progress for the establishment of a new newspaper in this city, under the auspices of the Associated Press, at the suggestion of leading bankers, merchants, and other business men. The Associated Press of this city, finding it was not able to control all the western papers' twenty-four hours after it was published in New York, has decided to set up for itself, after the manner of the literary people in Boston, and will have nothing more to do with western news. It is doubtful if they allow western papers a place in their reading room. For my part I am glad this news monopoly is being broken down.

—A San Francisco paper says that Miss Alice Kingsbury, the actress, went to the Baptist Church in that city, and volunteered to teach a class in the Sunday school. The offer was accepted, and the Superintendent complimented her on the manner in which she performed the duties. He, however, when lecturing the children on their duties, warned them to shun the theater, for it was a "light house" for the devil, and that she was an actress and a member of the church, and in a short speech defended the profession in a manner that drew considerable applause from the man who had opened the war.

—The Protestant Episcopal Church of the Holy Innocents, at the corner of Broadway and Thirty-ninth street, was recently sold to the Roman Catholics. The name of the church will be retained.

—It is estimated that 16,000 poor people were furnished with good Thanksgiving dinners by charitable societies in this city.

I, Commodore Farrago, and the "Golden Brick," Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, of the Ledger reminds me that some people are kicking up a "hobby" because Mr. Beecher of Plymouth church is writing a story for it which is to have a moral, and will be continued until Mr. Cobb has his ready to publish. Now, if Mr. H. W. H., can find time to write a story for the Ledger, besides writing his sermons, and attending to the political duties of the President, and looking after the key to the big organ, and seeing that his church members are all spiritually well, then what's the word to say. The question is—can Mr. Beecher do all this?

—Arrangements are in progress for the establishment of a new newspaper in this city, under the auspices of the Associated Press, at the suggestion of leading bankers, merchants, and other business men. The Associated Press of this city, finding it was not able to control all the western papers' twenty-four hours after it was published in New York, has decided to set up for itself, after the manner of the literary people in Boston, and will have nothing more to do with western news. It is doubtful if they allow western papers a place in their reading room. For my part I am glad this news monopoly is being broken down.

—A San Francisco paper says that Miss Alice Kingsbury, the actress, went to the Baptist Church in that city, and volunteered to teach a class in the Sunday school. The offer was accepted, and the Superintendent complimented her on the manner in which she performed the duties. He, however, when lecturing the children on their duties, warned them to shun the theater, for it was a "light house" for the devil, and that she was an actress and a member of the church, and in a short speech defended the profession in a manner that drew considerable applause from the man who had opened the war.

—The Protestant Episcopal Church of the Holy Innocents, at the corner of Broadway and Thirty-ninth street, was recently sold to the Roman Catholics. The name of the church will be retained.

—It is estimated that 16,000 poor people were furnished with good Thanksgiving dinners by charitable societies in this city.

THE RIGHTS OF REBEL STATES.

The Pioneer replies to our enquiry:

"What are the rights of rebel States?" by questions from the Constitution which simply beg the question, for these classes, the Pioneer will have the goodness to observe, apply only to States in the Federal partnership of the Union, and not to States, withdrawn from the partnership and at war with the Union. For example, one neighbor lays great stress on the following clause of the Constitution: "No State, without its consent, shall be deprived of its equal suffrage in the Senate." Very well, but State has been deprived of its equal suffrage in the Senate without its consent. On the contrary, the rebel States voluntarily deprived themselves of their equal suffrage in the Senate, and of all other rights in both houses, by the withdrawal of their delegates from those bodies—followed by Congress, and finally, by open war, forced Congress against its will to declare their seats vacant; and they were thus deprived, with their law, of their equal suffrage in the Senate. Our position is, that the moment those States assumed an attitude of war against the general Government, they ceased necessarily to have any of the rights or attributes of States in the Federal Union. It was an act of State suicide. The Pioneer, however, replies to this common view of the subject with the dogmatic metaphysics of the Philadelphia Convention. There are no such things as rebel States, we are told. It was the States, which were in rebellion against the general Government, but a portion of the people of those States. It was a war not of States but of individuals. In proof of this theory, the abolitionists never fail to go back to the opinions formed regarding the nature and extent of the rebellion at its outbreak and its earlier stages, as indicated by the proclamation of Mr. Lincoln, and the Crittenden resolutions. Now, in the early stages of the rebellion, the nearly universal belief was that it was a mere insurrection of individuals, and that these individuals generally formed a minority of their respective States. The whole was to be ended in "sixty days," according to the prophet of the State department. In this view of the case, Mr. Lincoln read the riot act to the insurgents, ordered them to disperse, and called for a peace conference of 75,000 men to all the sheriff to put down these local mobs. It was with a similar idea, that it was only a riot to be suppressed and a mob to be put down—that the House of Representatives adopted the Crittenden resolutions, declaring that the war was "waged for no purpose or conquest or subjugation, but to preserve the Union, with all the rights, dignity, and equality of the several States implied."

LATEST BY TELEGRAPH FROM WASHINGTON.

Could Presidential prohibition go further?

The New York Times, Raymond's paper, is getting extremely tolerant of the Radicalism which it so bitterly denounced a few months ago, and is decidedly soft on the Radical majority in Congress. The Times wishes the reconstruction question could be settled on the basis of the Constitutional Amendment, which it says is "the plan sanctioned by the country in the recent election." But the ordinary hope of settlement on this basis is futile, and continues: "But more radical measures may be a necessity. Of one conceivable substitute we have a forecast in Mr. Sumner's resolutions." Mr. Sumner's resolutions affirm the right and duty of Congress to organize government in the South on the basis of equal rights for all loyal persons, and the exclusion of disloyal persons from participation therein. It is a long road from Mr. Raymond's Philadelphia declaration of principle to this, but it is a road on which a good many representatives are traveling at railroad speed now days.

SURAT.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—It is said that Sumner is to be offered a free pardon if he will declare all the knowledge of the plot to assassinate Lincoln. Those who know him think he has an stigma to stand up against such an offer.

INDEMNITY.

It has been decided not to take any action on impeachment until after the various special committees have made their reports.
